San Francisco 49ers Head Coach Kyle Shanahan
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

Opening comments:

Two cornerbacks there. Is there a concern about that position?
“Hoping they're all right. It wasn't said that they were hurt for next week or anything, but we're not sure when it's a back and a foot. We’ve got to find out more tomorrow.”

Probably the end of the season for Gracen?
“Yes.”

You got five turnovers in the second half. Did you see your defense pressuring those? Obviously, a couple of those were just punch-outs. What did you see from your defense?
“I didn't see all of them, but I think we had a combination of everything. I think we got after the quarterback on that last one, so he was short on a post throw. I saw our guys punch a couple out. I saw on the first play, I think the quarterback dropped it and was a little bit late and underthrew it and [LB Jaden] Dugger made him pay with the pick-six. Same thing with Renardo in the corner of the end zone, just being able to go up for it. We've been struggling on turnovers and I don't think I've been a part of a team that's got four, four drives in a row and then five total in the second half, so that was huge by them.”

With the DL DeForest Buckner trade, do you feel like this defense could be a Super Bowl-level defense?
“Have opportunities for that stuff, but we’ve got a lot more work to do before we can say that.”

Did you say Gracen Halton broke an ankle?
“Yes.”

It seems as if he's made an impression on the locker room, on the team. He's been a big part of the rookie class. How tough is it to have somebody go down like that and you see the team rally around them?
“We would have done that for any of our guys. Whenever you get carted off and stuff like that, but for two things. He's played at a very high level as a rookie. He's had an awesome seven or eight games here. We're going to miss him a lot and look forward to getting him back next year. I know the guys love him too. He's an awesome guy.”

What kind of step forward has WR Jordan Watkins taken here in the last few weeks?
“A huge step forward. He hasn't gotten his opportunities and some guys have been down and he's been working and he's been ready for it. I think he's gotten better each week. I think the first week he came out there and played good right away. The ball went his way more this game and he was ready for those opportunities. I thought he's blocked well and stuff. One penalty he'd like to take back, but we can forgive him. That third down was huge. Just the man coverage and going up and making that play on the post. That was a hell of a play.”

What did you think of QB Brock Purdy scrambling in this game?
“He was effective with it. There was a couple of times that he missed a couple to where he probably didn't want to scramble. Always once he starts that, you're upset until he moves the chains or scores a touchdown, then you get over it pretty quick. Brock has been a threat all year with his legs and continues to do it."

What have you seen from RB Kaelon Black and how much has he improved since the beginning of the year?
"I think he started out the beginning of the year pretty good too, but we need him to keep getting better as the year goes. Love for [RB] Jordan James to keep getting better as the year goes, which I think he has at kick return and getting some carries there at the end, allowing us to stay on the field. I thought K.B. ran real hard today and was real happy with him and he has been improving and hopefully he keeps doing that."

You had 43 carries for 190 yards. Obviously, you go into any game trying to do that, but did you know early on that you were going to have that success? Did you feel like it right away?
"I think we had like 24 in the first half, which is a good start. Then when your defense gets all those turnovers, especially when they score on defense, it makes it a lot easier. Then we did good on third down. If you combine all those things, that's usually what happens. Doing good on third down, the defense getting the turnovers, us protecting it. I think we had one punt or maybe none. No punts. Yeah, no punts. We got stopped on the fourth down and had our turnover, but running the ball that well in the first half. We talked about it on Friday that we had an opportunity to do that, but we wouldn't be able to do that if we didn't do good in the pass game and do well on third down, and the guys did that. I'm glad we did what we thought we were capable of."

Was there any trepidation with how much you wanted to use RB Christian McCaffrey considering what he had last game with the injury?
"No. I actually forgot about it. He had a good Bye Week and he told me before the Bye Week in Christian style not to worry about it at all, he'll be fine and he looked good all week."

Brock missed a couple of passes early, a couple of over throws on that first drive. Is that a Bye Week thing, just not playing for a couple of weeks?
"I don't know, but you're right. He did miss a few, but we scored on all those drives too. It was kind of awkward when he comes to the sidelines. I'm telling him what he did wrong and then awesome job scoring. He definitely missed a couple, but he made it up with plays to make back."

You went for it, I think three times, two times pretty early. Was it just down and distance situation that you had the yardage you liked there?
"Yeah, I had the yardage we liked. A lot of that's just how you feel in the moment. You can go either way. There's other times in other games I won't do that, but felt good with it. Felt good with what we had ready to call. Felt good about us moving the chains. Felt good about the situation. Felt good about our defense on the other side if it didn't work. The one backed up or the one on our side was a lot harder, but I thought we were really close and I thought we'd get it. I still thought we got it with my own eyes, but I don't have a video so I'm sure I was wrong on that. It just worked out good except for that one."

K Eddy Piñeiro made all his extra points, made his kicks. Did he do anything over these last few weeks to show you that he was fine or did you just believe in it and it was going to be okay?
"It doesn't matter what they show you. That's why I always joke about kicks. That's why if I'm ever giving a lot of coaching on how to kick, I'm making stuff up. It either goes in or it doesn't. They kick all the time. He had a good Bye Week from what he said, all the stuff he worked on. I know our special teams coaches, [special teams coordinator] Brant [Boyer], [assistant special teams coach] Colt [Anderson] and [special teams quality control coach Ronald Blair III] Ronnie gave all three of them assignments and things they needed to improve on. Those guys kept it real with us and worked at it and glad he had a real effective day today."

What did you see from DL Nick Bosa? Did he have any rust today?
"I didn't get to see much, especially with the defense. I'll see on the tape, but really not sure."

Are Brock's scrambles coached at all or are they just spontaneous? Are there some plays where, hey, you get this look, the middle could come wide open for you and take it or does he just do that spontaneously?
"No, spontaneously. I've never in my life just told someone to take it. If it's something like that, we'll call like a quarterback draw and things like that. He's got a pretty good knack for doing it. Sometimes that middle opens and you just take it and it's a setup because the D-Ends are coming back underneath and it quickly closes, so you do that too much and you've just got to have a feel for it. That's what's cool about Brock because he is so good in the pass game. It's hard to do both. When you sit there and look down the field all the time, you don't know when to run. Usually when he chooses to, it usually works out well."

One hundredth career touchdown pass for Brock. He doesn't like numbers and stats, but can you just reflect a little bit on all that he's accomplished here?
"It's been amazing. Just since the first game he got in there. That's why I always struggle at the beginning of the year when everyone's asking me can I believe how good he's playing and how much better he's improved? Because he was so good off the bench versus Miami his first game and then the second week and taking us to the NFC Championship as a rookie. I think his second year took us to the Super Bowl maybe. Brock's been the man since he's come in and that's a pretty unbelievable deal considering where he was drafted, how he started. Very fortunate to have Brock."

Does the emergence of Watkins change your guys' mindset at all as far as looking for receivers between now and the deadline?
"We're always looking to upgrade our team in any way. We'll definitely continue to do that all the way until Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. or whenever it is. Then it's not just a receiver. You want to have depth. It's not just to replace one guy or anything like that, but we wanted to give Watkins this opportunity when people got hurt and he's really stepped it up and given us a lot of confidence too."

How close is CB Nate Hobbs to being activated this week and do you expect him for next week?
"He had a good practice this week. I thought he looked good in practice, so we definitely would have done that if one of the other guys weren't able to go so he should be ready."

Do you feel good about the depth at D-Tackle still with DL Sebastian Valdez, DL James Thompson Jr., maybe DL C.J. West coming back?
"I think as good as you can. We lost so many guys at the beginning of the year. More than I had ever heard of with just six out of the 10 in the first two weeks. But all those guys, they've gotten so much playing time in the six weeks after and they played at such a high level and done so well. That was a cool thing about getting Buckner is some of these guys that we've been dependent on, like Gracen, just gave us a lot more depth. Yes, it sucked to lose one today, big time, but we still have good depth there and we'll still always look to improve in whatever way that is. But, I do really like our depth at D-Line."

I know the deadline's Tuesday, things could happen. Does it feel like you guys could make a trade by Tuesday?
“It feels like any one of the 32 teams can make a trade. I'm not trying to be a smartass by that at all, but trust me, my family's hounding me as much as you guys are. I know it's fun to talk about. Everybody talks through trades, but really when it comes down to it, how many guys are really available? How many teams go through with it? It's not like free agency, alright. But, we've already made one big one and hopefully there'll be options and those options will make sense for us. I know we're working hard looking at it.”

Since you mentioned about your family, I know you said earlier in the week that you don't text your son while he's at school and let him know or anything like that, but he's always interested in what's happening with the team. On a day like today, where you have offensive coordinator Klay Kubiak and all the brothers there, but then you have your son so interested, what are those conversations like between your son, that lineage of just coaching down generations?
“I’m sure they're a lot like all fathers and sons. I just think probably my son asks me more about my job than other people's sons just because it's football and that's how I was growing up too. I think everyone pays attention to what their dads do, but when it's a sport, you have a lot more fun talking to them probably and asking them questions. It's something that I felt very fortunate to be a part of growing up, but it doesn't mean you have to like football just because you're related to someone in it, but it's a lot cooler if you do.”

Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

Are your scrambles 100-percent spontaneous or are there times when you know based on the call that something could open up in the middle and that's in the back of your mind?
“No, the ones I'm thinking of from today are just like, obviously I'm going through my progressions trying to execute the play at hand, throwing the ball. And then if something's not there, defense does a good job with matching our guys and then I see a gap, then yeah I'll try to go and make something happen. I think that longer one was third-and-17 or something like that, and I was like ‘Alright, we're in field goal range here, let's not take a sack and try to get some yards there.’ Then it just sort of kept opening up and I found an alley and took it. But yeah to answer your question, it's not something I go into the play going, ‘Alright I'm going to scramble here.’”

You had a couple of plays where it seemed like you had pretty visible frustration, like the first timeout where it was something with the headset and you couldn't get the play call in and then the play before your interception seemed like you were frustrated. Was that a frustrating game for you?
“I think that was just like the communication things between [head coach] Kyle [Shanahan] and I, sort of the headset, not hearing him clearly on some things. And then there was one time where we didn't have the right guys in for a certain play. And so, I was like, ‘Should we be calling this right now or not?’ So little things like that. More so communication, not really anything with hard play calls or what the defense is doing or anything like that. Those are just communication things that I think I need to hear better in the mic and just be better in that area.”

Is that kind of a one-off?
“No, I think honestly every game there's just times like that that happen. Clock’s rolling down and maybe something with Kyle's thing, like he didn't press the button and he's saying the last half of the play, and I'm trying to obviously put the whole play together. So, I might yell back and say,

‘Hey, can you say it again?’ or wristband numbers. So those are all just like communication things. And I think those happen honestly a couple times a game. It is what it is. All my career it's been like that.”

Was the third-and-three touchdown to WR Jordan Watkins similar to the play in Atlanta that seemed like a touchdown but was pulled away on review with an aggressive throw to him? Is that something that you've gotten more trust in, throwing aggressive throws to him in those sorts of situations?
“Yeah, I think J-Wat’s done a good job with the opportunity that he's been given with, if he's got a one-on-one matchup I'm not going to shy it down. I'm going to give him a chance. I'm going to give him an op. Obviously in the Atlanta game, I saw he had some chances to go up and make plays and he did. And so yeah, in this one, it was just really the coverage I thought sort of dictated where I was going to throw the ball and once I saw that middle safety sort of out of position, I was like ‘alright, this is a great opportunity for J-Wat to go make a play. And he did, came down with it. At practice, going back to training camp and OTAs, he comes down with those one-on-one matchup balls a lot of the times. So, it was just a really cool play for him to finish that.”

Jordan is coming on. Seems like he’s having a few good games. He's putting them, stacking them back-to-back. What do you think of him as a receiver just in the growth you've seen from training camp until today?
“I'm really excited for him. Obviously more opportunities, more targets with some guys that have sort of been hurt. But regardless, I think he's always sort of been getting ready since he's been here. I think something that's cool too is the way he run blocks. He goes in there and he just shows that he's down for the team. He's down for the offense, whatever he needs to do when his number's called. And then that sort of bleeds into him being reliable in the pass game and giving him opportunities with that. Like I've said, I think he does a great job with creating separation, getting in and out of cuts, coming down with contested catches. So yeah, my trust has definitely grown in him more and more. And I'm excited to see what the rest of the season looks like playing with him.”

You reached a milestone today, 100 pass touchdowns. Is that something that you get to celebrate, especially when it happens against the Raiders and it happens with a dominating win like today?
“Yeah, I think it's really cool. Sort of in the moment though, with just how the game was going, it's like we're competing and we’ve got to have the next play mentality. I didn't even know that was a thing. And it was just like we’ve got to be ready for this next drive. If they go down and score, we’ve got to answer. So that's sort of where my mindset was at. But in the locker room, once I found out, I was like, ‘Oh, that's pretty cool.’ So, something that I don't want to overlook either. As a kid, if you were to tell me I'd be in the NFL and I get to throw 100 touchdowns, that's really cool. I'm extremely thankful for that. But yeah, got to watch the film and get better for this next game.”

Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

How did you feel like you played? How did your body feel coming back?
“The body felt really good. I'm really happy with it. Came out great. Like always, things to improve upon, but as a D-line I think we made some big plays in some big moments. So, got to be happy with it.”

You got DL DeForest Buckner back, obviously. Do you feel like this is a Super Bowl level defensive line right now?
“Yeah, we have the guys to do it. We're going to keep getting better. It's funny, Buck came in, his head was spinning a little bit this week trying to get everything down, and it's just funny because when I came in the roles were reversed, but it's great to have him back and we have the guys to do it. Sucks for [DL] Gracen [Halton], but we have depth and we're going to keep getting better.”

Gracen made the play he made today, LB Jaden Dugger with the pick-six. What can those young guys do to kind of continue the evolution, how can that maybe elevate the ceiling of what you guys can be?
“Yeah, you got to reload in the NFL. You got to have young guys coming in. Our team's a little unique with how many older guys we have and vets, but it doesn't mean the draft isn't super important, and I think [GM] John [Lynch] and [Head Coach] Kyle [Shanahan] did an amazing job this year for sure.”

What stood out to you about those guys?
“Dugger is just a talented kid. I mean, everybody talked about how he was a steal and just his length and ability to run and to pair. I told him a couple of weeks ago it's pretty nice to walk into a linebacker room with [LB] Dre [Greenlaw] and Fred. So, he's just going to keep getting better. He's got the best guys to learn from.”

San Francisco 49ers DL DeForest Buckner

San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

How'd it feel out there back with this team?
“It felt great, you know what I mean? Being able to go out there with those guys and fly around on defense, I mean, you could just feel the energy. You got to fly around to the ball to go make plays, and that's the fun part about it. Not only competing with the Raiders, but with your fellow teammates, because everybody's hungry to make plays.”
You've been doing this for a long time, but do you get any nerves at all when you're coming back in a game like this? Any butterflies?
“Definitely. I definitely had some butterflies today. Obviously, my first game being back, I was definitely nervous, but I just had to tell myself, ‘Just go out there and play football. Go out there, do your job and have fun,’ and that's what we did. It wasn't the prettiest win, but we came out with the win.”
You're the last starter announced coming out of that tunnel. Is that when it hits you? It's not DL Nick Bosa, it's not LB Fred Warner, it's you. Did you feel that?
“I definitely felt the love, and in that moment, I was like, ‘Man, I'm home.’ It was a cool moment, cool experience. Obviously, Fred allowed me to go last, but it was pretty sweet.”

San Francisco 49ers TE George Kittle
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

What can you say about WR Jordan Watkins' maturation? He was a healthy scratch for the first two weeks of the season, and now he's making huge plays for you guys.
“Just happy for him. I mean, I've loved Jordan since he's been here. He works really hard. Last year he got kind of screwed. He had a little calf thing so he missed some time. Then it's hard to get a rhythm when you're the rookie who's just trying to find the field. I think he's done a really good job of taking advantage of his opportunity. He didn't really get a ball early and then for him to go out there and make plays and especially that touchdown, it's awesome. Really happy for him and he's only going to get better and better for us."

Was the goal heading into the game to run the ball 40 times or did it just work out that way?
"Both, I would say. If you watch the Raiders games, like the Jets last week, I think they had a drive where they ran the ball 7 straight times. You win the game by running the ball, but then you have to make plays in the passing game so you can continue to run the ball. I think our run game was really good the entire day. Probably [head coach] Kyle [Shanahan] was up here saying we made way too many offensive mistakes, yada, yada, yada, all that stuff. So [it's] a game that we can get better from. But when you run the ball 43 times, that usually means you're playing good football."

Can you just speak about the emotions of a football season? You guys are riding the highs of having DL DeForest Buckner back and now you lose a player of DL Gracen Halton's caliber. Can you speak about just the human side of all that?
"Football is really hard. We're 0.1 of the 1% playing in the NFL. You have all these guys who have dreams of playing in the NFL and when you're winning, it's the greatest. It's the best highs in football. Two years ago, we went, what, 6-11? A lot of lows there, but you build these great friendships. You see young guys take advantage of their opportunities. Then when something like that happens that's completely out of his control, it just breaks your heart. I've been hurt - you can talk to anybody who's been up here. Players get hurt. It's horrible. Gracen, you just feel so bad for the guy because he was making a name for himself. He was helping us win a lot of football games. His play in Seattle right before the half, scoring a touchdown, is probably going to be a highlight for the rest of his career. He was only going to get better. So it's disappointing, but he's going to be okay. We're all going to be here for him as much as he needs us to be."

San Francisco 49ers RB Christian McCaffrey
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

What kind of a lift does it give you when LB Jaden Dugger makes the pick six to start the third quarter?
"Oh, it's huge, man. That's huge. When you lose the toss and you don't get the ball back at half, those are huge possessions. To get a pick six like that in the middle eight was massive. Happy for him."

Speaking of rookies, what are you seeing from RB Kaelon Black lately?
"We love our room. I think with KB, when he comes in it's such a spark. When I can come in and come out and get my wind, he goes in, balls out, comes out, gets his wind. If we can just continue to do that, man, I think we can be really special. [RB] Jordan [James], also another guy who has been working so hard. When he touches the ball, he's very dangerous as well. We've got a super high standard in that room and that's because we know how good we can be. It's because of guys like KB, because of guys like JJ and the rest of the guys who continue to push each other."

How much did yourself and I guess the team benefit from the Bye Week as you prepared for the second half of the season?
"It was huge. Bye was great. I think it was much needed. Great way to start this little run here and get back to it."

San Francisco 49ers LB Fred Warner

Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

You've obviously played with DL Nick Bosa a lot and DL DeForest Buckner in the past. Did you feel their presence out there today? Did it feel different having them back?
"Yeah, for sure. Those are two super disruptive players for our D-line, and the offense has to have a plan for them at all times. It frees up a lot of things for the rest of the defense. Of course, I've got to go back and watch the film to really see just how big of an impact they had. But, I mean, you can't not be happy with the fact that we have both of them out on the field for us going forward."

There were four straight takeaways after that long drive. What was the key to being so opportunistic?
"That was honestly the emphasis going into this week. I think we just had a spurt where there was a drought in takeaways, and we know how important that is to winning football games and for our team moving forward. Of course, you wish we would have started faster in the first half, but to come out in the second half and have five of those was unbelievable. It was honestly just guys being in the right spot, doing their job, playing relentlessly, getting to the football and having it on their mind. So, it was definitely a point of emphasis."

You jumped over the pile to stop Las Vegas Raiders QB Kirk Cousins on a quarterback sneak for a loss of two yards. What was going through your mind before the play? Have you ever done that before?
"No, it's hilarious because in 2023, Monday night against Minnesota, at the one-yard line, Kirk Cousins ran a QB sneak. I jumped over the top and stopped the play. So, I was like, 'Oh, Kirk Cousins again.' I think they'd already tried to sneak it in one time, but I've got to shout out [S] Ji'Ayir [Brown]. [Las Vegas Raiders TE Brock] Bowers was running in for a touchdown, and he got him out of bounds at the one. I saw the ref hold his hand up, and I said, 'Man, we've got a chance.' So, them rushing up to the line let me know exactly what they wanted to do. They wanted to try and sneak it in, so I just had to time it up and try to knock them back."

How close do you feel this defense is to being a Super Bowl-level defense? Is it there right now? What's your takeaway from today's game?
"I think we still have a lot of room for improvement, especially based on today. I feel like that first half was sloppy, and I'm including myself in there. I think we definitely could have been better all around, and there are things in the second half to clean up as well. But I love the group. I love the players. I love the coaches. I love the mindset. I think if we continue to strive to get better every single week, we're going to give ourselves the best chance to really be a team on the rise, which is everything we want going forward."

What's the emotion when you see DL Gracen Halton carted off with an air cast?
"It's super heavy. I'm sick for him. He's been a huge part of what we do. Super disruptive. He's been awesome. His energy, his spirit. So, for him to go down and have to get carted off, it was sad. I'm just trying to be there for him and let him know that everything happens for a reason and he's going to be just fine. Obviously, we're going to miss him, and we're hoping for the best news possible."

What does it do for a defense when you see QB Brock Purdy, especially in the first half, escape pressure and run up the middle for big gains and first downs on plays that seem to be well defended?

“Yeah, Brock Purdy's the best quarterback in the league. That's what he does. He gives us the best chance to win every single week. He's the reason why we've got a chance to go get a trophy. Brock Purdy, you're up, buddy.”

Las Vegas Raiders Head Coach Klint Kubiak
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

Opening Statement:
“Sixty-six [G Trey Zuhn III] has a concussion. When you turn the ball over five times, you're not going to win ever. We didn't do a good job stopping [the 49ers] in the first half. We turned it over five times in the second half. Credit to the 49ers. They played a really good game.”

What did you see with [QB] Kirk's [Cousins] pick-six to start the second half?
“It looks like we fumbled the exchange, tried to pick it up and make a play, and obviously their guy made a play. So, it started with the exchange. Fumble the exchange, you got to eat it and go to the next down.”

Seems like he's been able to protect the ball pretty well this year. Just what do you make of his decision-making on turning the ball over and picking the game back up?
“We got to go back and look at every single play, but when you're in position to throw the ball every down starting in the second quarter, you're going to throw interceptions. So, we have to find balance on our team. That's not a new topic.”

What went wrong defensively? They had three long drives. What do you feel like they did well and what went wrong?
“Credit to them. They executed. We didn't.”

This is the fifth time in six weeks the Raiders have allowed 150-plus rushing yards. What's it going to take to change the performance?
“It's got to take something different.”

Are the issues when you're not stopping the run schematics or personnel?
“We all share the blame. There's no finger-pointing, it's thumb-pointing. So, we'll figure it out together.”

In your opinion, what do you think is the biggest thing that needs to change to have more red zone success on offense?
“The game has to be balanced. You can’t be a running and throwing team when you're throwing it every time. That's not easy.”

This is the sixth week in a row that you’ve given up 30-plus points to the opposition. At what point do you need to start thinking about making some changes?
“We'll look at the film and we'll make our decisions when we have cooler heads.”

I understand that you haven't seen the film, but [Las Vegas Raiders S Treydan] Stukes played well today. When you're dealing with a young player, are you able to appreciate that even with a loss?
“Yeah, absolutely. He's been a bright spot throughout the season. Very instinctive playmaker, hard worker. Proud that we have him on our roster.”

The Raiders have shown flashes but haven't been able to come out on top against some of these contending teams. Where's the difference in the level of play to meet those teams that have been at the top of the league for a while?
“You got to start the game a lot faster. You got to go toe-to-toe in the first half so that the second half isn't a throwing fest.”

What do you feel kept the Raiders from generating rhythm and momentum in the first half offensively?
“We went three-and-out to start the game, and I thought we found some plays, but you got to score on all those possessions. Not kick field goals.”

The trade deadline is coming up. Is there any thought on what your position might be in terms of bringing in or selling out?
“We're always talking about that with Spy [Las Vegas Raiders GM John Spytek] and looking at everything.”

Do you feel like the outcome today changes the calculus at all with that?
“Every day the calculus changes. You get new information about your team and that goes into the decision-making moving forward.”

Through nine games, how do you feel about the current state of the roster?
“At this time of year, we're focused on winning games. I really like our team. I don't like losing games like this. We’ve got to have a lot more resilience when you're playing a really good team like we played today. When you start that slow, you don't put yourself in a good position, but I'm proud to coach the guys that we're coaching.”

Las Vegas Raiders QB Kirk Cousins
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

Opening Statement:
“Alright, disappointing day. Felt like there were plays out there to be made and felt like our defense did a nice job in the second half getting us the ball back, creating turnovers, turnovers on downs, and special teams gave us short fields. And so, it's disappointing not to capitalize on those opportunities and cut the lead that they had. Disappointing for a lot of different reasons and have to be better moving forward. So, I’ll take any questions you have.”

Las Vegas Raiders Head Coach Klint Kubiak just talked about when you get into the second quarter and you're stuck having to throw all the time, how that just hinders the offense. Can you talk about how becoming one-dimensional in the NFL is not sustainable for long-term success?
“I mean, certainly we want to be balanced, but we got behind and we were having success throwing the football. I felt we just weren't able to finish drives. You know, certainly the turnovers were a big part of that.”

Could you take us through your second interception where you were trying to get to WR Tre Tucker?
“Yeah, just trying to do too much, didn't put enough on the ball to the back corner or just take the ball underneath to [TE] Brock [Bowers], either one. But, with the ascending corner there you can't leave it a little bit short where he can make that play.”

And on the first one, you fumbled the ball again. Were you trying to throw it away?
“Yeah, the ball just needs to be thrown into the first row of the stands and not even give it any chance. It was a play [where] that ball should just be gone way out of bounds, not even give it a chance.”

With, you just said kind of trying to do too much, would you say that that's kind of the common theme for those three interceptions today?
“Yeah, certainly the first one, the ball should just be thrown into the stands. The second one can take the check down or just have to put the ball way back to the back pylon and try to let Tre go get it, but it still probably might've been tight. And then the third one, at that point I'm just trying to launch it but again, just wasn't able to get everything I wanted on it. I thought Tre got behind him, it appeared, but wasn't able to get everything I wanted on it to get it out there to him.”

You've been pretty solid at making the right decisions so far this season. Just where do you feel like the issues came up today?
“Well, I think we just kind of said it there. The first one, just got to put it out in the stands. Second one, just got to either put it to the back pylon or check it down. And the third one, if you're going to throw it you’ve got to throw it far enough that the safety can't get it, but sometimes when you get behind you try to get it all back in one play and it's hard to be patient. And I just probably needed to stay a little more patient and be okay with not getting it all back at one time, which is kind of always hard to do when you want to get your team back in the game quick, and sometimes you just gotta be patient and let it happen.”

The trade deadline is on Tuesday. Your name has been out there of teams that might need a quarterback. A, is that a compliment, number one, to be talked about like that? And B, what are your thoughts about that possibility?
“It feels a little bit out of my hands. So, I'll just let decision makers make decisions and react accordingly, but love it here. Love the guys here and feel good about what we have here.”

So, to follow on that, just in general, what is it like as an NFL player, just in the locker room with 53 guys with the trade deadline approaching? Is there a nervous feeling? Like, how would you just describe this time of year?
“I don't think so. I think that's more of an outside thing. I think we just kind of go about our business. That wasn't something on the forefront of our minds, really.”

When there are self-inflicted wounds like there were today, is that easier to clean up compared to some schematic issues maybe that would cause a loss like that?
“I think it's just a little more painful, certainly when you come away and you feel like maybe you could have been in that game had you played to the standard you expect of yourself or of your group, and I think that's the hard part.”

You've had some flashes this season of being able to hang with some of the best teams that you've played, but haven't been able to pull through. Just where do you think the gap needs to be closed to hang with these teams?
“I think it was hard today with just not playing complementary football. I thought our defense did a great job in the second half of really limiting them, and I felt like if we, as an offense, had done our part, we're right there at the end in that game. I think that's the hard part, not feeling like we're all playing our best ball at the same time to then kind of give us that chance in a game like today, but that's something to look to in the future, is just all of us playing our best ball together to then be able to come out with a win.”

Is that an elusive trait in the NFL, just figuring out ways to put it all together like that, like you said, to play that kind of competition?
“Well, I think every week's a challenge and there's just not much room for error. You need to play your best ball every snap and mistakes tend to cost you. So, you got to do all you can to avoid them.”

Las Vegas Raiders TE Brock Bowers
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

How would you describe what happened with you guys in the second half with the offense?
“Yeah, it was just frustrating. We just felt like we were moving the ball pretty well. The turnovers killed us. I can't hold on to the ball. I can't put the ball on the ground. So yeah, I blame myself for that.”

What happened on that play?
“I just went through some traffic trying to get some extra yards but, regardless, I have to hold on to the ball.”

How close are you to getting that touchdown?
“I have to figure out a way to get in the end zone so we can limit the margin for error. I've got to find a way to get in.”

Las Vegas Raiders DE Maxx Crosby
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

A lot of guys have been talking about starting faster. How do you do that when it feels like it has been the same trend that's been going on the past few weeks?
“There are a lot of things. We just have to play better complementary football. It feels like when we have good stretches of defense, we struggle on the other end. And when we're struggling, the offense is playing well. We have to play better as a unit. There are a lot of things that we need to improve on. We have to take care of the ball. We have to take the ball away. It's not like our intentions are 100% right. We're working on everything. We're working together, and it just hasn't gone our way, and it hasn't been our best. We have to continue executing at a higher level if we want to truly be in playoff contention. We're right in it. We're in the thick of it. It's a really good team, and you can't give the ball away. You can't start the game defensively like that and expect to win. We have a lot of things to improve on, but I know this team's going to stay close-knit and looking forward to getting a lot better this week and getting ready for Seattle.”

It seems like you guys are able to make the necessary adjustments throughout the game. When you show up on game days the past few weeks, the starting slow, is that because you're kind of working on the back end trying to adjust, or were you guys just not fully expecting everything that was coming at first?
“Going into every game, it's different. You have to give credit to them. They had some answers to the things we're doing. And we got to make more plays defensively. We have to take the ball away. We can’t wait until late in the game to start taking the ball away. There are a lot of things that go into it, but you have to give them their credit. The Niners play really well. They're a really good team. They've been in great adversity often, and have been in multiple Super Bowls, and they know what it looks like. So, you can't give them layups and things like that, or it's going to be really difficult. We believe in each other, I know this locker room does. Some of the turnovers, I know guys had zero intention of having that happen, but it's how you respond. I'll go to war with these guys every single day of the week. That's what we're going to keep doing."

Statistically speaking, you've been one of the better run-stopping edge rushers, but the run still continues to be a problem. Do you think it's more schematic than just effort-based when it comes to stopping the run?
"There are multiple things. There are a lot of things up front. You have to be tied together at the back end and linebackers do as well. It's communication, it's leveraging the formation, several things that tie into stopping the run. It's not just one player. It has to be all 11, all hands on deck. It's something we're going to have to continue improving on, and I think we will."

Las Vegas Raiders TE Michael Mayer
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

When there are as many self-inflicted mistakes as there were today, are those easier to clean up than issues with the scheme?
"I think anytime you lose a game like that, regardless of turnovers or not, there are things to clean up schematically and with ball security. So, I'm sure we've got to clean up a lot of things."

Are you encouraged by the fact that you guys got so close to scoring, despite turning the ball over at the one-yard line a couple of times and Raiders QB Kirk Cousins getting stopped on the sweep? Or is it more frustrating that you weren't able to capitalize?
"We have to score, that's our livelihood right there. We have to get in the dang end zone, and I have to protect the football. That football is my entire life. So, for me to fumble like that, that close to the end zone, is totally unacceptable. I have to go back to work and work on it."

What's going to be the biggest thing for you guys to keep frustrations from boiling over and stick together?
"We've got a bunch of hard workers on this team. We've got gritty football players and veterans. We love to play football. We love to come to work and play football. So, we're just going to get back to work and keep practicing. I'm obviously going to focus on the ball security details. We've got a bunch of people on this team who love football and love to win, so that's not going to be a problem for this team."

Las Vegas Raiders S Treydan Stukes
Postgame Quotes – November 8, 2026
San Francisco 49ers vs. Las Vegas Raiders

With all the motion and misdirections that the San Francisco 49ers run, how difficult is it to stay disciplined out there as a defensive back, as a safety?
"That's their game. They try to make their stuff look the same and it's all about reading your keys and being disciplined with your eyes. It's good practice because there are teams that like this style of offense and it's good for us DBs to make sure we're on our stuff so that we can give our defense a chance to be in the right position."

The play that you made, did you see that coming? Did you kind of feel that and knew that you needed to be in that certain place to make that play?
"It was good communication all around. I got some pre-snap communication with the other players and that's what helped me be able to be in front of the play and have a chance on that one. We have to find a way to do that more often, get our offense more chances so we can win these games."

Did it feel like a slow start? You guys settled in a little bit, but the first two drives, they just kind of went right down the field. Do you feel like you just didn't start well?
"Yeah, we have to start way faster than that. We can't spot teams points like that early. It makes it so much harder for us in the second half, even when we play well, if we already gave up too many points. That's going to be an emphasis for us. We're going to figure out how we can come out and play our best ball from the start of the game to the end."
